BOSTON, May 14.—The Brooklyns opened on Klobedanz to-day as if they intended to knock him out of the box, but were unable to hit him avcessively after the fourth inning. Sheckard made a magnificent running catch off a hot liner from Duffy's bet in the fifth, and Long robbed Tucker of a safe hit in the sixth by taking a short fly ball almost out to centre field. Joe Yeager put up a magnificent game at short, Lachance being laid off with a sore finger. Tenney returned to the game after a several days' lay-off, and had a field day. Hallman and Griffin hit the ball hard, and the latter fielded finely. Martin Bergen hit the ball safely every time at bat. EASY FOR THE TIGERS. Harvard's Pitcher Hit Hard and Receives Pos-

Support. PRINCETON, May 14.-Princeton and Harvard played a game for the intercollegiate champion ship this afternoon on the 'varsity grounds, and The game was witnessed by a typical college crowd of 6,000 persons. The grand stand and bleacheries were filled to everflowing, and the crowd, with the exception of 100 rooters from Cambridge, spread itself on the grass around the running track. A thousand Princeton stu dents in the east stand kept up a noisy fusillade of cheers throughout the entire game, sending of cheers throughout the entire game, sending out loud vollers at the slightest exportunity. Hillebrand pitched a clean, steady game for the Tigers, and was backed up in excellent style by Kafer. His support in the field was gilt edged, barring two errors by Burke and Hutchinga. Fitz's southpaw delivery was quickly solved by the Princeton batters, and this, with the frequent and costly errors by the Crimson infielders, made the game easy for Princeton. In the last inning Fitz burt his arm and retired in favor of Morse. The score:

Baseball Notes. "Dad" Clarke has been released outright by Louis-lie. Brooklyn might use him.

Wrigley, the Washington shortstop, served four years in the United States Navy and wants to re-enlist. St. Louis has a much better team than people be lieve. When hot weather comes Hurst's men will surprise the baseball world, so many critics think. Will George Groghan, who was pitcher of the Suffelk Basebail Club, send his address to Charles H Smith, manager Suffolk Baseball Club, Huntington L. I.?

Joseph Bean, the shoristop loaned to Newport by the Brooklyn Ciub, has received orders to report to the Rochester team of the Eastern League, and left for that city yesterday.

Third Baseman Wagner of the Washingtons bids of ground and is a good bataman. He was developed in Arthur Irwin's Toronto team last year.

The Johnstown Field Club of Jersey City, having failed to secure home grounds, is in a position to book games for Saturdaya, Sundays, and holidays. Address H. H. Hirschbiel, 461 Produce Exchange, Manhattan.

There is a deal on between Brooklyn and Baitimore for an exchange of players. Hanlon wants Anderson to play first base, as McGann is not coming up to expectations. The Brooklyns want a couple of pitchers, and might accept Hoffer and Fend.

Hillary Swaim, the tailest ball player in the profession, has reported to the Washington Club. He is the pitcher who last season at the Polo Grounds made a base hit te centre field and was thrown out by Van Haltren before he got to first base.

or Buly, and Gidson, His Fermer Partner

Wis Best of the Money—Glenbeim, the Pa-verite, is Well Beaten—Withers Stakes Ge to The Beguenet, Henry of Navarre's Brother. The largest juvenile stake outside the classic Futurity was the chief feature among three attractive specialties at Morris Park yesterday. This was the National Stallion race of $20,000, for two-year-olds, promoted for the first time by the Westchester Racing Association, and likely to become an established fixture. The race was won in gallant style by John Daly's bay colt Jean Bereaud, by His brown colt Glenheim, by Hanover-imp. Cin-derella, second, and P. J. Dwyer's brown colt Miller, by Hindoo-Bonnie Gal, third. It was a contest worthy of the exceptional amount of money in the balance, and although the decisive victory of the Daly candidate must have been a severe blow to favorite players, a royal recep-tion swaited Tod Sloan and his mount when they returned to the judges' box.

The race was third on the card, and eight numbers went up, August Belmont's Rayon d'Or gelding, Filon d'Or, and James Rowe & Co.'s Juventas, by Juvenai, being withdrawn. The Morris brothers added the St. Florian gelding, Passe Partout. In the parade J. A. Bennett's Potomac colt Sanford, with Taral up, showed the way, but he was not much far cied. P. J. Dwyer's handsome colt Miller, with Doggett in the saddle, was also ig norpd by the talent, and the bookmakers posted 20 to 1 against his chances. Then came the winner of the Juvenile Stakes, J. E. Madden's Glenheim. He was full of life and pranced around like a playful kitten in the hands of Sims. On appearance and previous form the talent thought him unbeatable, and 10 to 9 was freely wagered on his ability to outfoot the field. J. W. Schorr & Son's brown colt W. Overton, piloted by T. Burns, was ignored by the experts, and no one seemed to want any of the 200 to 1 offer against W. C. Daly's colt Rusher. All attention was focused on the next colt in line, Jean Bereaud, and with Sloan was promptly played down from 2 to 1 to 8 to 5 by the plungers who had figured that he might beat the favorite. Sydney Paget's Meddler filly, Lady Sneerwell, and the Morris's gelding, Passo Partout, ridden respectively by Coylie and Penn, went begging at 100 to 1.

After considerable skirmishing at the post

they got off well together, with Miller first to appear. Glenheim moved away fifth, but quickly went to the head of affairs. He showed the way at a nare clip down the Eclipse Hill, with Miller hanging on and Jean Bercaud running close up third. The latter might have been nearer to front at this stage, but Sloan slipped cowboy act for 100 yards before he got his right foot back into position. Then he came sailing and racing past Miller in the dip, ranged alongside of the favorite. Sims at once took Glenheim in hand, and Doggett on Miller followed suit, but Sloan had the pair settled. He lowed suit, but Sloan had the pair settled. He nursed Jean Bereaud along to the finish a length and a half in front of Glenhoim. The latter was so hotly pressed by Miller in the drive home that onlockers were in doubt as to the place bonors until the favorite's number went up. Ho beat Miller a scant head, while the Dwyer colt was two lengths in front of W. Overton. Rusher. Santord, Passe Partout and Lady Sneerwell finished in the order named. The followers of Glenhefm could scarcely realize the situation, but the Jean Bereaud supporters pointed out triumphantly that the Daly colt had run from the rear of the bunch into second position in the two-year-old dash on May 10, and that he would then have beaten Counsellor Wernberg in another jump. How the rich stake was distributed is shown in the following table:

This race paved the way for the historic Withers Stakes, established in 1874 at Jerome Park and run since 1890 at Morris Park. The event was worth $5,000, but despite its financial event was worth $5,000, but despite its financial and sentimental prominence only six horses turned out. Of these, Handball and Sanders were coupled as P. J. Dwyer's entry, and were ridden respectively by Doggett and Burns. The two were quoted at 4 to 1 in the betting, while a point better was an offer against the Fleischmanns' Mr. Baiter. Ten to 1 was freely laid against J. G. Follansbee's Murillo, with Taral up, and J. E. Madden's Great Bend, ridden by Sims. The plungers were a unit as to the winning chances of the Thompson Brothers' highly bred coit. The Huguenot, and they backed the good-looking brother to Henry of Navarre down to even noney, Sanders showed the way for two furlongs, with The Huguenot and Mr. Baiter in close attendance. Handball took up the running when Sanders dropped back and led into the stretch by a head from Mr. Baiter. This pair fought it out to the last furlong, where Spencer came along with The Huguenot and was claverly we along with The Huguenot and was claverly we along with ning when Sanders dropped back and led into the stretch by a shead from Mr. Baiter. This pair fought it out to the last furlong, where Spencer came along with The Huguenot and won cleverly by a length from Mr. Baiter, who was two lengths clear of Handball. Sanders was lapped on his stable mate, and Murillo shut Great Bend into last place. The time equalled that made by Octagon under less favorable conditions last year, but fell far short of Lucanias 1:41% in 1895 and Handspring's 1:41 in 1896. Altogether the race was regarded as much below the standard looked for when such a rich plum is hung up for the best of the three-year-olds.

The weather conditions which favored the outing could scarcely have been improved, and a crowd which was variously estimated at from 10,000 to 15,000 made the trip to the pletureque Westchester inclosure. The big park in its fresh spring verdure was a treat for the eyes of city visitors, while horsemen and the "regulars" generally failed to pick a flaw in the arrangements within the track boundaries. The steeplechase course to be used for the first jumping struggle of the season on the turf set off the trim infield to perfection, and the clubhouse lawn, with its gathering of prominent men and handsomely gowned women, was another attractive picture. The grand stand and promenade were through bired, and the harmony of the gathering was intensified by the tuneful contributions of Conterno's Band.

The sport began with a dash down the Eclipse course for maiden three-year-oils and upward. Eighteen horses went to the post and caused considerable delay. Reprisal ruled favorite at 9 to 5, a rather risky price in such an unwieldy field. Mizpah was next in demand at 5 to 1, probably because Sloan was up, and Rappahannock was third choice at 7 to 1. The figures almost cashed as they blaved. Sloan forced the 9 to 5, a rather risky price in such an unwieldy field. Migpah was next in demand at 5 to 1, probably because Sloan was up, and Rappahannock was third choice at 7 to 1. The figures almost cashed as they played. Sloan forced the running with Mispah and had him well up until the last furlong, where the favorite made his effort and got home by half a length. Slasher, at a long price, beat Rappahannock a head for the place. Mispah swerved badly under Sloan in the drive and was beaten a head for the short end of the purse. All except three of the sixteen slated for the second race accepted the issue and again the favorite pinyer cashed in. It was a five-furlong dash for two-year-olds. Autumn outfooted his field from the dip home, winning easily by half a length. Sims brought Mr. Clay up from the rear and snatched the place by a head from Moddlesome, while Sir Florian was only a neck away.

The fith race, a handicap for three-year-olds and upward, was chiefly remarkable for the fact that it was the first event of the meeting started directly in front of the stand. Scherrer, on Mont d'Or, spoiled several good breaks and was set down for two racing days. Sloan broke from the rear on Our Johnny when the flag dropped and chased Mont d'Or to the stretch. From that point home he outspide Scherrer and won by a good neck. August Belmont's Merry Prince was equal favorite with the winner, but got no nearer than third. This made Sloan's second win of the day and he divided the honors with Spencer.

The New York Steeplechase Handicap at-

got no nearer than third. This made Sioan's second win of the day and he divided the honors with Spencer.

The New York Steeplechase Handleap attracted nine runners, and all except one took kindly to the spirited game. The exception was C. Mooney's Col. Thompson, who could not be induced to break. For one circuit the eight contenders jumped well, and their effort over the water jump in front of the stand was heartly applauded. English made most of the running with Royal Scarlet, while Shillelah and Big Strive were also prominent. Sydney Paget's gelding made his bid nearing the last fence, and then galloped home three lengths in front of Big Strive. Royal Scarlet was third, pulled up. Summary:

The noted handicap race horse Ben Brush, purchased last winter by James R. Keene from M. F. Dwyer for a big sum, is lame. The tendons of his front legs are slightly bowed and last year's Suburban winner is likely to be on the shelf for some time. That he has permanently broken down is denied. Trainer Tom Green said last night that he is confident he can get a good race out of the sturdy son of Bramble—Roseville before the season is through. Ben Brush remained with "Hardy" Campbell and worked with M. F. Dwyer's string at Gravesend up to last Friday, when he pulled up lame despite the protection of strong bandages. He was then transferred to the headquarters of the Keene string at Sheepshead Bay. Hen Brush is slated to carry top weight is both the Brooklyn and Suburban handicaps, and all lovers of a game thoroughbred hope that he will round into shape for one of these races or some other valuable stake. broken down is denied. LOUISVILLE, May 14.—There were two good events on the cards to-day, and as the weather was fair and the track good the attendance was large. The Gentleman's Cup attracted much sitention, as there were five riders, all young members of Louisville's best society. They were Heary Watterson, Mr. Headerson, Mr. Clay, Mr. Zorn, and Mr. Pace. Mr. Watterson, having the mount on Oxnard, was the favorite, but Henderson won on Tincraft after a hot fight. Watterson easily got the place. The best rider won. Pediar Palmer Signs to Fight Any 116-Pound Man in the World.

Dr. Ordway, the American representative of the National Sporting Club of London, arrived n New York yesterday on the Campania from England, after a month's trip abroad. Ordway's visit is to match "Pedlar" Palmer, the crack English bantam champion, against any 116-pound man in the world. Ordway says that Palmer's hands are in tip-top shape, and that he an find backing for any amount from £500 to £1,000. In talking of boxing prospects in Engand, Ordway said to THE SUN reporter: "The season at the National Sporting Club will terminate on May 23. On that evening, which is known as 'Derby Night,' Chesterfield Goode and Arthur Akers will come together the middleweight championship of England, 'Dido' Plumb, England's crack 185-pounder, and Jack Cullen, the recent importation from Australia, will come together in the preliminary affair. Cullen is rated as a very fast and clever boxer, and those who have seen him fight say he is a real champion. He has a great deal of confidence in his ability, and has posted 2100 to meet 'Spike' Sullivan in case he wins. Sullivan is a great favorite in London and the sports want him to return as soon as he can. Should it come to pass that Cullen loses, 'Spike' will be masched to box Johnny Hughes, our present English lightweight champion. Hughes can get good backing. As far as Palmer is concerned, i will state that he will be ready to box by next September. I have the articles of agreement which be has signed with me, and all that is necessary to clinch a match is to get a suitable opponent for him."

"spike' Sullivan says that he will fight either Cullen or Hughes, and immediately after his fight with Dal Hawkins will sall for the other side. Australia, will come together in the prelimi
